

Protect horses from pests with the Ultrasonic Pest Repeller™.

Provide horses with 24-hour-a-day relief from annoying mosquitoes and other pests with the Ultrasonic Pest Repeller™ from AAI Safety Products.

The Ultrasonic Pest Repeller uses no odors or chemicals, instead delivering a continuous ultrasonic pulse that mosquitoes, ticks and fleas detest. Simply attach the repeller to a horse's halter or fly mask for constant protection. With a range of five to six feet, the repeller can protect horses from head to tail, and also is effective on dogs and cats.

Its retro look might be deceiving, but the Western Legend series from White Eagle Saddle Pad Company offers all the conveniences of today.

These all-purpose saddle pads evoke memories of the Old West, but have the look, quality and craftsmanship that accentuate the beauty of both a horse and saddle. Available in rounded or square designs and an assortment of colors, the pads feature handcrafted piping that prevents shifting under the saddle.

With the release of its CS36LE and CS40LE lightweight professional chainsaws, John Deere offers a commercial-grade saw with 25 percent greater fuel efficiency that's also better for the environment.

The low-emission saws are designed for use on the job site, ranch or around the house. Featuring best-in-class power-to-weight ratios, these 9.5-pound saws are ergonomically designed for maneuverability and operating comfort. As is the case with the entire John Deere PRO-SERIES, the CS36LE and CS40LE have a no-oil-at-idle feature that reduces consumption and works in conjunction with the low-emission engine.
